The hospital for the half of Finland

Oulu University Hospital (OYS) is the center of the most demanding specialized healthcare in Northern Finland. We respond for the services of the specialized healthcare for nearly half million of Finnish people and for the services in the specific catchment area of almost 750 000 Finnish citizens for the specialized medical care.

Together with University of Oulu and the area's central hospitals, we educate a big part of the specialists of medicine for the needs of Northern Finland.

We are building a new hospital to be able to respond to the future needs of the specialized healthcare.
